PRÆSENTATION AF PULJEN

The aim of the Programme for Interdisciplinary Research is to promote high-quality bottom-up research that combines and integrate skills from multiple disciplines.

Key assessment criteria under the programme will be excellence, interdisciplinarity, and Nordic added value. The programme is specifically aimed towards genuinely interdisciplinary projects that combine disciplines which are far removed from one another and rarely collaborate, or that pursue an original research question requiring the exact combination of competencies from different disciplines proposed in the application. Projects awarded funding under the programme are required to encompass research within at least two of the three areas of science as used by the European Research Council: Life science; Physical Sciences & Engineering; Social Sciences and Humanities. The research problems to be addressed must be interdisciplinary and not just incorporate a method from another area; they need to add value to all the scientific areas involved as well as to the interdisciplinary space.
